Brent Zuber

Owner

Texas native Brent Zuber has been in construction since graduating college in 2004. He started with a Fortune 500 company that built over 5300 homes in 2005. It was there that he learned how a well oiled-machine operated and was on the estimating and purchasing team. From there, he was hired as a project manager by a financial fund group that purchased land and managed urban living developments. He oversaw the construction and quality control site inspections for many townhome developments in the Dallas / Fort Worth area. In 2012, Brent hired on with a custom home builder in Houston and built over 25 custom and spec homes before starting his own business. Memory Builders was launched in 2014 and continues to add to the charm of urban neighborhoods. A graduate of Stephen F. Austin University, Brent lives in the Heights with his wife Casey and their two children Cason and Davis.
